

ASSIGNMENT – 5

1. Insight 1

Fraudulent transactions represent a very small percentage of total transactions, but they can lead to significant financial losses, making early detection extremely important.

Insight 2

The visualization shows that fraud transactions occur more frequently during specific time periods, indicating that certain hours may have higher fraud risk.

Insight 3

The analysis of transaction amounts suggests that fraudulent transactions often follow unusual spending patterns, which can help identify suspicious activity quickly.

2. The visuals show how sales vary across different products and regions. Some products clearly perform better and contribute more to total sales and profit. Regional distribution highlights which areas generate the most revenue. The dashboard helps quickly understand sales performance and compare trends.
